Good working conditions are an important concern to many traders and consumers and it is also important to our company. People are being increasingly critical about cultivation methods and the origin of the product. Many international supermarket chains are more often focusing on the social aspects of operations besides environmental requirements. Therefore we got MPS Socially Qualified (MPS-SQ) certificate on the 27. June 2019. Our company meets the international and national requirements in the field of health and safety. The MPS-SQ certificate is based on universal human rights and the codes of conduct of representative local organisations. The agreements of the ILO (International Labour Organization) are also included.
